TRUE

ENGINEERED HARDWOOD FLOORING

THE TRUE DIFFERENCE

Hallmark Floors is the first to master this revolutionary technology of replicating “the bog-wood process” that occurs when logs lie buried in lakes, river, and waterways, deprived of oxygen and sunlight. This process in nature can take centuries for the wood to turn from its natural color to deep golden brown or even completely black.

Hallmark Floors has emulated nature’s methods to create saturated colors throughout the wear layer, creating stunning, weathered patinas.

Unlike other wood floors, the color and beauty of this unique collection goes throughout the wear layer without using stains or dyes.

True bog-wood, driftwood, and weathered barn wood are all very rare. Hallmark has replicated this process and made these prized finishes available through the True Collection.

“We really love the floor. The 7” planks are beautiful and covered the area faster than narrower planks. STRATTON HICKORY

QUALITY IN EVERY GRAIN

Our collections are small batch, hand-touched & not mass produced, and are always designed with fashion in mind. The subtle nuances that make Hallmark Floors unique are all done by hand and inspired by the natural graining of the wood. The 100% hand scraping that imitates turn-of-the-century flooring and the multi-step weathering techniques beautifully highlights the inherent characteristics found in nature. By layering all of the processes together, it enhances the style and cut of the plank.

Engineered Hardwood Construction

Hallmark Floors' engineered hardwood floors is constructed with an ultra thick wear layer has the same usable surface as 3/4" solid hardwood flooring, which allows 3 guaranteed sandings. Sliced and rotary veneer layers allow up to 2 guaranteed sandings.

TrueCore® Construction

Hallmark Floors uses only true hardwood veneers and TSCA Title VI glues for the center-ply in our engineered floors' hardwood construction. The center veneers are cold pressed, then hot pressed using tremendous pressure. This process makes the eco-friendly center core harder and more proportionally stable.

- Higher Stability
- Higher Density
- Higher Strength
- Higher Indoor Air Quality

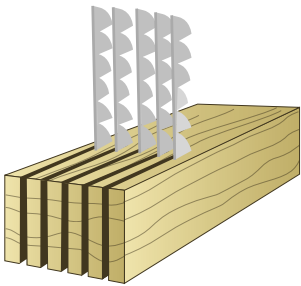

Truecore® is third party verified and surpasses the TSCA Title VI emission requirements.

TrueCore® 2 Construction

Made from quarter sawn pine lamellas attached to the surface wear layer. Providing 2 key performance enhancing features:

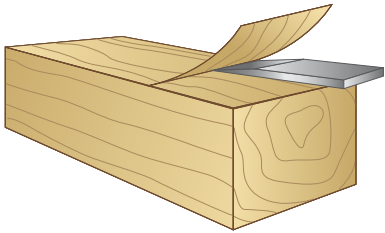

1. Quarter sawn pine lamellas create 25% more dimensional stability with the same indentation resistance as hardwood for optimal structural strength.
2. A 1:5 core to wear surface ratio with an additional applied sealant to the underneath of the plank creating the highest optimum dimensional stability in our plank.

Rapidly renewable core comprises 80% of the volume of the plank, for best management of forest resources. 90 degree side rail design, for precision tongue & groove, providing smooth, clean, simple installation.

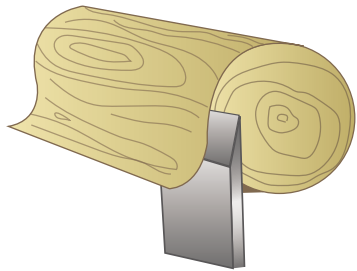

Sawn-Cut Style

Experts in the industry agree that sawn-cut provides the best quality, stability & visuals for solid & engineered floors. Sawn-cut engineered floors allow for the thickest veneer (4mm) with the highest degree of stability. Engineered sawn-cut wear layers are the ONLY engineered floors that are equal to solid wood floors.

Slice-Cut Style

Slice-cut features the same beautiful look as sawn cut veneers and is the second most common way to create a wood veneer, it's just in thinner layers (2mm or less). This creates stunning visuals while still providing stability for engineered wood floors.

Rotary-Cut Style

The rotary style has a completely different look than sawn-cut. Rotary-cut top layers accentuate the natural grain pattern and have a more pronounced appearance. The random grain visuals are a reflection of how the wood is processed.

Nu Oil® Hybrid Oil Finish

Nu Oil® incorporates new hybrid technology, creating a highly durable, stain and fade resistant finish, all with a limited lifetime warranty. Nu Oil® is easier to maintain than traditional oils and does not require an immediate re-coat at time of install.

TrueMark® Glaze Tek Finish

Four coats of hand applied base and accent colors, combined with twelve coats of finish achieve a depth and richness unparalleled anywhere in the hardwood flooring industry. Nano technology is incorporated into the surface and fortified with aluminum oxide for a finish so durable it carries a limited lifetime warranty against wear through.

TrueMark® Poly Finish

By using the latest technology in finish systems our TrueMark® Poly Finish is unsurpassed in ensuring the most protective, clear & easily maintainable coatings available for even the toughest of families. Hallmark Floors uses revolutionary nano technology in the surface coats to maintain the beautiful appearance and durability of the surface finish.

Fumed Floors

Fuming is a natural, accelerated aging process used to enhance the dark and light shades within every wood plank and batch. Fuming simply deepens the natural colors and highlights the contrast of the wood planks without the use of stain. This process creates a naturally richer, darker and clearer floor with a higher contrast of color. It's created by adding a natural oxidizing agent in a controlled environment to react with the naturally present tannins in the wood.

No two planks will be identical after the process, and the intensity and tone of the color will depend on the length of time the wood is treated and the amount of tannins in the wood.

Floors made from fumed hardwood are beautiful, lively and one of a kind, featuring great color variation with a unique high contrast, just like the floor in the beautiful bedroom in the picture.

Light Exposure & Natural Changes

Varying changes (patina) can occur when wood is exposed to UV rays from sunlight, florescent, LED, and incandescent bulbs. Window coverings, UV resistant tint, solar screens can minimize but not eliminate this natural occurrence. Certain species are more susceptible to light & development of varying degrees/shades of patina, due to their high content of natural oils.

Hallmark hardwood floors are created to showcase the natural beauty of wood. As such, the planks will contain natural mineral deposits/streaking, and both closed and filled knots. Wood is a natural product that features distinct color and graining. Each board is unique in its characteristics and will vary from piece to piece. Each board can vary from a clean to rustic visual.

Heartwood & Sapwood

The difference between the inner part of the tree (heartwood) and the outer part of the tree (sapwood) can be seen as variations of light and dark. The natural contrast between heartwood and sapwood plays a major role in the color of wood floors. Variations can occur from board to board, as well as in the same board. This occurs naturally, and is not an "unfinished" board.

Staining wood floors can diminish the appearance of heartwood and sapwood, but it doesn't entirely hide these natural characteristics. The stain helps to blend the natural contrasts together. It doesn't eliminate it. Fuming has the opposite affect on heartwood and sapwood. Fumed floors are designed on purpose to magnify the natural contrast.

Order Samples

Samples are provided as a courtesy to architects, interior designers, other building industry professionals and homeowners.

Because wood is a natural material, every plank of Hallmark Hardwood flooring will have a unique appearance, often with naturally-occurring variations in color, texture and grain patterns. Samples and online photos show only a small example of the product's appearance and they may not fully be representative of the range of color, texture and grain variations which can occur throughout the product. It is recommended that a box of flooring be purchased and seen on-site prior to ordering floors for your home or renovation.
